Are You Walking in Light or Hiding in the Dark?

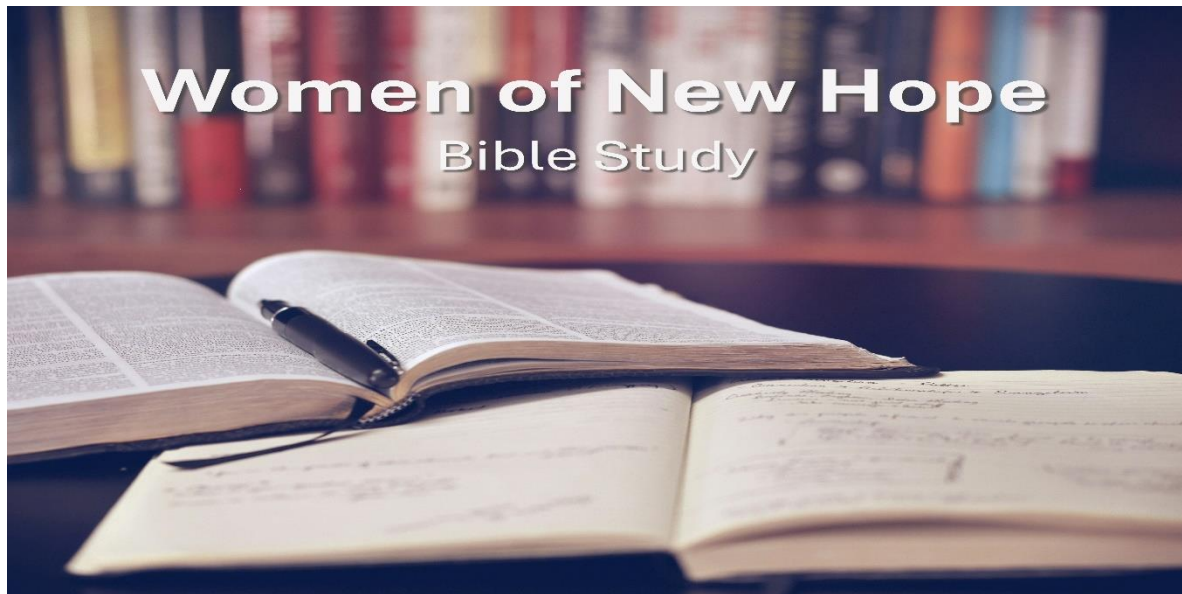

Being a kid, it's fun to play hide and seek with your friends. As you grow older though, you need more of a challenge! Add the element of night time and it becomes more difficult, scary and can actually be a lot of fun... until you get hurt running into something!

Darkness has never been a good companion, unless you truly want to be hidden and not found! Our focus this weekend is always striving to be in the Light! We will look at 1 John 1 and find out what it really means to be where you can "see!" After all, Jesus reminded us He is the Light of the world and we can trust to follow Him.

This coming Sunday, May 11, we are wishing a blessed Mother's Day to all of our moms... birth, adoptive, aunts, cousins, and those wanting children too. You are the first line of care and nurturing in a baby's life. We honor you and thank you for all your sacrifices and love you show to little ones who rely on you! May this day be a reminder that you are/have made a difference!

Last Bible study of the season coming up on May 21, but still all ladies are welcome.
